Free Organ

The eNews received information about this offer from more than one of our readers. Please contact Jes directly if you have questions:

We are looking for a new home for my family's church organ. It has been in my grandparent's home for the past 30 years. They inherited from our church when our new church building was built many years ago. It is now time for it to have a job and to be played and enjoyed. I've attached a couple photos. We are looking to donate it to a church. Please contact me if you are interested.
