

Our Mission:

To identify and strengthen leaders so that every congregation makes new and mature disciples for Jesus Christ.

Better Know a Presbyter

We'll be getting to "Better Know" one half of a clergy couple this week: Rev. Bill Cooley. Bill and his wife Jean have faithfully served our Presbytery in a variety of capacities for many years, and are now pastoring Lakeview Presbyterian Church in St. Petersburg. Bill also offers training in a great marital and per-marital counseling tool called PREPARE/ENRICH.

Take a few minutes and get to know Bill!

I hope that if you have a joy, concern, resource or mission opportunity to share, you'll let me know!

In Christ,

Rev. Dave Baker,

Stated Clerk and Director of Communications

Presbytery of Tampa Bay

Twenty Conversations by Robert Wierenga

The pastor of Lake Seminole Presbytery Church just published a book! Here are a few details:

The experience of raising three children taught me two things: my kids know way more than me when it comes to electronic devices and social media. On the other hand, they have little knowledge of the poets, playwrights, authors, and novelists whose works have shaped Western culture and values. This deficiency prompted me to select twenty writers who helped shape my worldview.

I selected a key passage from each one and then responded to it. The result is the book, Twenty Conversations, that was self-published in March. I submitted it to Kindle Direct Publishing and this week it also became available as an eBook on Amazon. The print edition is available for $12 at www.PayPal.me/WierengaConsulting and the eBook is available for $2.99 at Amazon. For the sale of every print edition book, $3 is donated to Lake Seminole Presbyterian Church to help fund outreach.

A Word from the Trustees:
Whose house is it anyway?

For many, our church property is as important and meaningful as our own home. It is the place where we saw our first child baptized, took our vows, or bore witness to the resurrection as a loved one enters the Church Triumphant. It is our shelter throughout all life's moments and a witness of our Christian faith. But whose house is it?

Frequently questions arise during the course of a congregation as to property ownership. This might come by way of an outside vendor seeking to rent part of the church property or a congregation seeking to mortgage, sell, or expand its holdings. However, most congregations are unaware that such agreements most often require prior approval by the Presbytery's Board of Trustees. This is because the property of congregations of the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) is held in trust[G-4.0203] This means that the Church and the Presbytery are effectively co-owners of the property.

The practical impact of this is explained in the Book of Order here:

G-4.0206 - Selling, encumbering, or Leasing Church Property

a. Selling or encumbering Congregational Property

A congregation shall not sell, mortgage, or otherwise encumber any of its real property and it shall not acquire real property subject to an encumbrance or condition without the written permission of the Presbytery transmitted through the Session of the Congregation

b. Leasing Congregational Property

A congregation shall not lease its real property used for purposes of worship, or lease for more than five years any of its other real property, without the written permission of the Presbytery transmitted through the Session of the Congregation.

As you can see, almost all agreements involving Church Property need to be approved by the Board of Trustees of the Presbytery. There are two major exceptions. Leases of non-worship space for less than 5 years do not need Trustee approval although the Trustees can often provide helpful advice.

More generally, after Reunification of the two major Presbyterian Denominations in 1983, Churches were given a period of time to opt out of the PC(USA) rules and retain the old PC(US) property rules, which allow church trustees instead of Presbytery trustees to make these decisions. The Presbytery Office maintains a list of those Churches in our Presbytery who are operating under the old PC(US) rules.

You can learn more about the Trust Clause in the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) Book of Order, section G-4.02.
