Theological Conversations Free Study Resource

(original story) LOUISVILLE - "Theological Conversations," a series of papers designed to invite congregational leaders in the PC(USA) into discussion wherever they gather as sessions, presbyteries or for adult education in congregations, continues its celebration of the 500th anniversary of the Protestant Reformation with the release of "The First 500 Years" by the Rev. Dr. Jerry Andrews.

Andrews, senior pastor since 2009 of the First Presbyterian Church in San Diego, holds degrees from William Tyndale College (Michigan), Trinity Evangelical Divinity School, Princeton Theological Seminary, the University of Pittsburgh and the University of Chicago, where he earned the Ph.D. in Ancient Mediterranean World. Among his many interests and passions is teaching Patristic literature and the Reformed faith.

In formulating his thesis for "The First 500 Years," Andrews-along with the eleven other authors with varying backgrounds and contexts who will write papers in 2017-was invited to consider the following question in the light of their own Presbyterian commitments and callings: "What Reformation gifts does the PC(USA) have to offer the church and the world for the next 500 years?"

Andrews answered the question in part by writing, "This is the gift of the PC(USA) to the next 500 years-a church that thinks through, teaches, and tests the faith expressed in distinctly Reformed terms, appropriated by conversing with those who first thought through the faith by being the first interpreters of scripture."

Each paper is available as a free download on the "Theological Conversations" webpage and is a study resource with accompanying questions for conversation or reflection, suitable for use by both individuals and groups. The 2017 series will include one paper written in Spanish and one in Korean.

The series launched with "Theology and Bravery" by the Rev. Laura Mariko Cheifetz, vice president of Church & Public Relations and editor of These Days at the Presbyterian Publishing Corporation.

"Our Reformed faith always moves us forward, loving God with all our mind, as Andrews says at the end of his paper," said the Rev. Michelle J. Bartel, coordinator of Theological Education and Seminary Relations for the Presbyterian Mission Agency, who oversees the "Theological Conversations" series. "Study of and conversation with ancient as well as current thinkers keeps us learning and listening, one of the hallmarks of Reformation theology. We study and learn what we have received so we can pass the faith on to others."

Board of Pension Retiree's Luncheon

The Board of Pension Retiree's Luncheons are on:

Dr. Anne Murphy Joins the Church Eternal

Dear Sisters and Brothers,

Our beloved sister, Dr. Anne Murphy, passed away peacefully early this morning [March 11th]. Anne was a former ruling elder at Maximo and retired professor of Political Science at Eckerd College. Anne was known as a champion for the weak and marginalized of our society. Her seminal work in the church culminated in her joining the task force which wrote an important document called, "Peacemaking: A Believer's Calling." This document was used by the northern and southern branches of the Presbyterian Church as they united in 1983. She was also an important member of the Justice and Peacemaking Committee of the Presbytery of Tampa Bay.

Finally, Anne was honored for her long and arduous, advocacy work with the migrant farmers at Beth-El, by having a scholarship named after her. This scholarship combines and continues her fiery passions for education and justice, and funds children of the migrant workers at Beth-El.

Please join me in service for the celebration of Anne's life at Maximo on Saturday, March 18, 2017, at 11:00 A.M.

Please pass this message to people you may know who are interested in this important information.

Grace and peace,

Pastor Bobby Musengwa

Interested in getting to know some fellow Presbyterians much better? Take a cruise with the good folks from St. Andrews Sun City Center later this year! Details in this flyer.

Good Friday service at Gulfport

For the past few years, several Presbyterian churches have united to worship together on the beach for Good Friday. This year's service at Gulfport Beach (west pavilion near the casino) will be conducted again by Reverend Micki Robinson, pastor of Gulfport Presbyterian Church at 12 noon on Good Friday. Please join us! Bring a lawn chair and a heart ready for inspiration.

In case of inclement weather, the service will be conducted at Gulfport Presbyterian Church. Contact Dia Stoner for further information. 727-868-3515. Hope to see you there.

Beacon Hill Fellowship news

In case you weren't able to attend the dedication service at Beacon Hill this past Sunday, there was a great write up in the Ledger earlier this week. Excerpts and a link are below.

"We (the two former churches) had a shared vision on how to serve the community. This is a group of Baptist and Presbyterians that have a common interest in doing justice and sharing compassion with humility," said Rev. Timothy Sizemore, 49, who lives in Lakeland with his wife, Regena, son, Andrew, 21, and daughters Abigail, 19, and Anna, 17.

"This is a new neighborhood for us and an opportunity to serve the community," he said. "The value we find is a sense of unity between the Baptist and Presbyterian congregations and a common vision in serving in the name of Christ."

The Beacon Hill liturgy takes place in a renovated sanctuary, said Bill Futch, which so far includes $50,000 in a new, enlarged sanctuary stage, new carpeting throughout, a new screen and projection system, and new roof.

There are plans to upgrade a bathroom to comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act and remodel a new, small kitchen installed in the fellowship hall.

Overall, he said, up to $100,000 will have been invested in upgrades once all renovations have been done.

The new service and conviction Beacon Hill is providing has been notable, said Ray Johnson, executive coordinator for the Cooperative Baptist Fellowship of Florida in Lakeland.

He said the merger has aligned "pretty well with what it means to be a cooperative Baptist" and a willingness to participate with other religious denominations.

"I've been celebrating this happened and what's happening in God's church worldwide," he said. "I'm very happy with how they are a cooperation between the two former churches. Both traditions are honored in the service and that speaks well of its pastor and congregation."

Mission Interest

Can your church help?

Volunteers are being scheduled to help with the rebuilding of homes damaged by Hurricanes Hermine and Matthew. Part of Presbyterian Disaster Assistance's mission is to offer hospitality to volunteers coming to serve others. The Florida PDA Network is looking for churches that have space to house volunteer mission teams. A typical team is usually 8-12 people that come for a week at a time to work with the local Long Term Recovery Organization. They are self-sufficient and only require a place to sleep, access to a kitchen where they can prepare simple meals and (hopefully) a shower. These groups are wonderful to get to know at a midweek fellowship gathering. If you might have space to share or would like more information, please contact Kathy Broyard at fla.pdan@pcusa.org or 941-483-0675. Thank you.

JOIN FARMWORKERS AND TAMPA BAY FAIR FOOD FOR THE GRAND FLORIDA FINALE OF THE COALITION OF IMMOKALEE WORKERS' RETURN TO HUMAN RIGHTS TOUR, CALLING ON WENDY'S & PUBLIX TO MAKE A REAL, VERIFIABLE COMMITMENT TO PROTECTING FARMWORKERS' FUNDAMENTAL HUMAN RIGHTS IN THEIR SUPPLY CHAINS.

BIT.LY/17-R2HR

Join farmworkers and Tampa Bay Fair Food for the grand Florida finale of the Coalition of Immokalee Workers' Return to Human Rights Tour in Tampa on Wednesday, March 29! We will call on Wendy's and Publix Supermarkets to make a real, verifiable commitment to protecting the fundamental human rights of farmworkers in their supply chains by joining the CIW's Fair Food Program.

The march begins at 5PM at Publix GreenWise (2401 W Azele St.) and concludes at Wendy's (1615 W Kennedy Blvd). Parking will be provided.

CAMPAIGN BACKGROUND:

The 14-day, 12-city Return to Human Rights Tour (March 16-29, 2017) is the longest protest action in the last ten years of the Campaign for Fair Food, joining thousands of consumers in mobilizing for the national Wendy's Boycott. The boycott, launched by farm workers last March, has garnered tremendous support from tens of thousands of students, faith leaders, human rights, activists, and consumers of conscience across the country. In spite of the growing pressure, the final fast food holdout has dug in its heels and defended its decision to shift purchases away from Florida's tomato industry - hailed in the New York Times as the "best working environment in American agriculture" - and towards a Mexican industry, riddled with inhumane working conditions.

This March, the Fair Food Nation will call on Wendy's to return to the fields of Florida and join the Fair Food Program, where "quality" is defined not simply by the guarantee of tasty fruit, but also by the guarantee of respect and dignity for the women and men that harvest the fruit.

Upon the tour's own return to Florida, farm workers will come together with supporters from across Florida in the call for justice from both Wendy's and Publix Supermarkets, with a March and Vigil for Human Rights on March 29! For seven years, Publix has refused to engage farm workers in dialogue or commit to respecting their fundamental human rights. As a Florida-based supermarket and a company allegedly committed to being a responsible member of its community, it is high time they join the Fair Food Program.

Cedarkirk's Summer Camp program

HAVE YOU HEARD ABOUT CEDARKIRK'S MOST EXCITING NEW PROGRAM?

Our second year of Traveling Day Camps begins in June! We are partnering with churches from the Presbyteries of Tampa Bay and Peace River to provide exciting and engaging day camps for the children in those congregations and surrounding communities. A Cedarkirk van will arrive with staff, supplies, games, Bible study materials, recreation equipment, and everything else we need to take the transforming and experiential aspects of summer camp on the road.

If your church is interested in hosting a Traveling Day Camp program, contact Associate Program Director Rebeca Franca (rebeca@cedarkirk.org), for details and answers to any questions you have. You may also find more information at www.cedarkirk.org. We'll see you this summer!

Mid Council Financial Network Conference Dates

Hold the date!

The Mid Council Financial Network Planning Team has been working very hard to secure a location for the 2017 conference. We wanted to share this information with you in order to get it on your calendar, with the hopes that you can attend. This event is a continuing education and training opportunity for synod, presbytery, and church financial persons. We are working with presenters and various others to bring you the most up to date information for this conference. Details are as follows:

Dates: November 15-17, 2017 (Start with breakfast on Wednesday and end at noon Friday)

Location: Hotel Maya
700 Queensway Drive
Long Beach, CA 90802
(Group Room Rate $169 + tax)

Hotel Reservations: Check the link here and enter requested information.

Registration brochures will be sent out in July. In the meantime, if you have any questions, please feel free to contact me at \(888\) 728-7228728-7228), extension 5542.

If making reservations by phone, please call the hotel directly at 562-481-3904. Be sure to give the group code PBC.

This hotel is the only waterfront hotel in Long Beach with a view of the ocean as well as the city line. The historic Queen Mary is with-in walking distance and the Aquarium of the Pacific is only five minutes away via shuttle. There is a complimentary shuttle that stops at Hotel Maya every 15 minutes from 6 am to midnight to take guests into downtown Long Beach where there are countless dining, shopping, and entertainment venues.

The series goal is to integrate Christian theology with practices that counter racism in our lives and communities. The speakers have made major contributions to this effort and will lead participants in the critical reflection on steps that are necessary to engage our communities in practices that dismantle the structures of racism. There will be small group conversations as well as major presentations by the speakers. The goal is faith in action.

Dr. Willie Jennings is Associate Professor of Systematic Theology and Africana Studies at Yale University. His book, The Christian Imagination: Theology and the Origins of Race (Yale 2010), won the American Academy of Religion Award of Excellence in the Study of Religion in the Constructive-Reflective category the year after it appeared and in 2015, the Grawemeyer Award in Religion, the largest prize for a theological work in North America.

The Reverend Paul Timothy Roberts Sr. is President of Johnson C. Smith Theological Seminary in Atlanta, GA, a position he has held since the spring of 2010. Johnson C. Smith Theological Seminary is one of the ten theological schools of the Presbyterian Church (USA), and the only one that is historically African American. From 1997 through 2010, Rev. Roberts was the pastor of Church of the Master (PCUSA), a church founded in 1965 in Atlanta, GA, as an intentionally interracial congregation.

Dr. James H. Cone, known as the founder of black liberation theology, is the Charles A. Briggs Distinguished Professor of Systematic Theology at Union Theological Seminary. Dr. Cone is best known for his ground-breaking works, Black Theology & Black Power (1969) and A Black Theology of Liberation (1970). His latest book, The Cross and the Lynching Tree, received the 2012 Nautilus Silver Award in Religion/Spirituality-Western Traditions.

Chief Cassandra Deck-Brown

is the first African American woman to be appointed the Police Chief of Raleigh, NC. A North Carolina native, Chief Deck-Brown joined the Raleigh Police Department in 1987. She graduated from East Carolina University and received a master's degree in public administration from North Carolina State University. She is known for her dedication to justice and has spoken widely on matters related to law enforcement and the public good.
